

RD 704 EXPERIENTIAL INTEGRATION: MASTER OF DIVINITY

Program Coordinator/Faculty Supervisor: Blayne Banting, DMin, PhD | bbanting@briercrest.ca

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF EXPERIENTIAL INTEGRATION

MDiv students are required to complete a mentored Experiential Integration (EI) and should carefully plan for their Experiential Integration requirements with the Faculty Supervisor. EI is generally three to twelve months in duration, depending upon the number of hours per week students can devote to the ministry. The minimum requirement is three months (12 weeks or 480 hours). Some students choose to complete EI over a longer period while working or studying part-time. Though EI is non-credit, there is a one-time fee of $150 for processing, registration and supervision.

Prerequisites: Completion of a minimum of 48 credit hours of the program, including one of: CM 600, CM 601 or LE 605, and permission of the Program Coordinator.

EXPERIENTIAL INTEGRATION OBJECTIVES

- To integrate graduate education with a ministry context
- To test and/or reaffirm vocational directions
- To bring together the activities of thinking and serving theologically
- To enable students to gain personal confidence as reflective leaders
- To experience and understand diverse forms of ministry
- To develop and/or refine skills required for ministry
- To relate to a mature mentor who will support personal, spiritual, and ministry formation
- To develop an ongoing self-assessment process, utilizing self-perception and feedback from others, to stimulate further learning and growth

STEPS TO BEGINNING THE EXPERIENTIAL INTEGRATION

A. Step One

Meet with the Faculty Supervisor for Experiential Integration to discuss the process. Included will be discussion around:

- Registration process
- Length and structure of the Experiential Integration
- Selecting a Field Supervisor
- Selecting a secondary Field Supervisor, if necessary
- Selecting an Experiential Integration location

B. Step Two

- Select a potential ministry site and a potential Field Supervisor
- Ask your potential field supervisor to carefully read the Guidelines for Field Supervisors (below) and submit the attached Request for Field Supervisor Approval form (below) unless he or she has already received approval.
- Select a potential secondary Field Supervisor, if necessary
- Receive approval for your Field Supervisor (and secondary Field Supervisor, if necessary).

C. Step Three (after the Field Supervisor has been approved)

- Complete the application form (below) and begin the process of enrolment in RD 704 Experiential Integration – this is done through the Program Coordinator.
- Confirm the potential dates of the Experiential Integration.
- Compose a Learning Covenant (below) in collaboration with your Field Supervisor. The Learning Covenant will serve as a guide and schedule to the experiences you will receive during the Experiential Integration and must be submitted to the Program Coordinator by the end of the first week of the experiential integration. Students and field supervisors are strongly advised to compose the Learning Covenant before the experiential integration begins. There will be no extensions for this assignment.
 - Make sure to include all information in the Learning Covenant – all church information, all addresses and email addresses, primary supervisor information (and secondary if applicable), etc.
 - The Learning Covenant must include a job description for the Experiential Integration (see job description worksheet later in this syllabus). Normally, after review, job descriptions require some revision prior to approval.

SELECTING A MINISTRY SITE

The congregation, church plant, mission, hospital or parachurch organization provides a setting for hands-on involvement under the guidance of an experienced Field Supervisor. Students should prayerfully select a ministry situation:

- That is a healthy ministry context
- Where the Field Supervisor meets the educational and experiential qualifications
- Where the Field Supervisor is capable and available as a positive mentor
- That provides opportunity for a variety of ministry experiences

GRADING

The Experiential Integration will be graded as pass/fail. Students must complete all components as indicated in the Learning Covenant, submit all evaluation forms, the Experiential Integration Journal and the Summative Reflection Paper before a grade of pass is assigned. Details on how to keep the EI Journal are found later in this syllabus.

GUIDELINES FOR FIELD SUPERVISORS

Field supervision is an essential element in ministry experiential integration at Briercrest Seminary. Field Supervisors participate with students in preparing and affirming them as leaders of the church. This reflects the biblical pattern of 2 Timothy 2:2, "And the things you have heard me say in the presence of many witnesses entrust to reliable men who will also be qualified to teach others." For this reason, we describe the partnership formed with the student as a mentoring relationship. The mentor's task is to come alongside the student and participate in forming, shaping and training them for ministry. This happens through oversight, instruction, collaboration and encouragement. Mentors also provide essential insight regarding the integration of graduate education into ministry.

ESTABLISHING AN EXPERIENTIAL INTEGRATION

If you are interested in establishing an Experiential Integration in your ministry context, the first step is to submit the Request for Field Supervisor Approval form below.

EXPERIENTIAL INTEGRATION OBJECTIVES

The experiential integration is designed to accomplish two sets of objectives – those that are of primary benefit to the student and those that benefit the ministry. This should be a mutually beneficial arrangement. The student will be required to satisfy the following objectives:

1. To intentionally integrate graduate education into a ministry context
2. To test and/or reaffirm vocational direction
3. To bring together the activities of thinking and serving theologically
4. To enable students to gain and/or affirm personal confidence as reflective leaders
5. To experience and understand diverse forms of ministry
6. To develop and/or refine skills required for ministry
7. To relate to a competent mentor who will support personal, spiritual, and ministry formation
8. To develop an ongoing self-assessment process, utilizing self-perception and feedback from others, to stimulate further learning and growth

It is expected that supervisors, as ministry leaders, will also have goals that relate to the ministry setting. These will vary according to the needs and opportunities provided by that setting. It will be essential that these goals are discussed with the student to ensure they are understood and agreed upon as the Learning Covenant is written. It is also crucial to keep central the priority of integrating graduate education into ministry. This will require that supervisors spend some time recalling their own graduate education and integration into ministry. For the student, this will require affirmation, encouragement, assistance and patience.

QUALIFICATIONS OF AN EFFECTIVE FIELD SUPERVISOR

The field supervisor is a mature Christian leader who has commitment to graduate theological education. Ideally, this person will have an MDiv degree. He or she will also be experienced and knowledgeable in ministry, able to provide insightful and sensitive guidance to the student and be comfortable working with human limitations. The supervisor will contribute to the ministry formation of the student by giving oversight in the ministry setting, encouraging study and reflection on the practice of ministry, modelling spiritual disciplines, healthy attitudes and ministry skills, and providing evaluation and feedback. Establishing a good fit between field supervisor and student is important.

EXPERIENTIAL INTEGRATION REQUIREMENTS

Experiential Integration is generally a minimum of three to twelve months in duration, depending upon the number of hours per week the student can devote to the ministry. The minimum requirement for the student is three months (12 weeks or 480 hours). Some students choose to complete the experiential integration over a longer period while working or studying part time elsewhere.

The Field Supervisor's role will include the following:

1. Supervision: Supervisors will assign ministry responsibilities and provide oversight as the student engages in ministry. This begins with writing a Learning Covenant in collaboration with the student. The Learning Covenant will serve as a guide and schedule to the experiences the student will participate in during the experiential integration and must be submitted to the Program Coordinator at the beginning of the Experiential Integration.
2. Mentoring: It is expected that there will be a minimum of 12 meetings between supervisor and student over the time of the Experiential Integration. These mentoring sessions provide an opportunity for:
 - a. Discussion regarding the process of integrating graduate education into ministry;
 - b. Planning, problem-solving, feedback and evaluation relevant to the ministry setting;
 - c. Debriefing of incidents encountered in the ministry;
 - d. Affirmation of ministry direction and calling;
 - e. Prayer and mutual encouragement;

- f. Discussion of ministry related topics (a list of suggested topics is found later in this syllabus).

Supervisors should be gentle but honest. The ability to affirm strengths sets a context for discussion of weaknesses. Mistakes are to be expected, tolerated and learned from. One purpose of supervising is to assist the student to ask the right kind of questions, those seeking the theological dimensions in the field experience, those exploring what really happened in a situation, those inquiring about the student's feelings during those encounters. The concern is growth, ministry formation and affirmation of the student.

Discussion topics may include:

- Call/reaffirmation of call to ministry
- Pastoral responsibilities such as preaching, teaching, leadership, counselling, visiting, weddings, funerals, leading worship, baptisms, communion
- Personal priorities and stress
- Time management
- Expectations of others
- Job descriptions
- Devotional practice (spiritual disciplines)
- How an MDiv can help make you a better pastor
- Leisure and renewal
- Understanding the community
- Evangelism and outreach
- Social action
- Discipleship
- Christian lifestyle
- Nurturing marriage and family relationships
- Ministry tensions such as worship style, inter-generational ministry, congregational decision making, conflict management
- Leadership and administration
- Mission and vision
- Budget and financial management (personal and organizational)
- Lay leadership development
- Denominational issues
- Professional ethics
- Exegetical and theological issues

3. Evaluation: There are several components involved in evaluation. Field Supervisors and the student will participate in Mid-Point and Final Evaluations. The Program Coordinator will assign the grade for the Experiential Integration.

FINANCIAL GUIDELINES

Financial remuneration is established directly with the student and is included as part of the forming of the Learning Covenant. The manual includes suggestions regarding how to approach this aspect of the Experiential Integration. Covering all ministry-related expenses, such as travel, is also strongly suggested.

THE LEARNING COVENANT

The Learning Covenant provides direction for the experiential integration by drafting agreed upon objectives, duties, schedules, time expectations, remuneration, and commitments. Field Supervisors and students are to work together to complete this form. The student must submit this to the Program Coordinator by the end of the first week of the Experiential Integration at the latest, and it is required for the registration of the Experiential Integration.

FIELD SUPERVISOR TRAINING

Field supervisors are encouraged to address any questions to the MDiv Program Coordinator, Dr. Blayne Banting (Phone: 306.756.3291 (office), Email: bbanting@briercrest.ca).

REQUEST FOR FIELD SUPERVISOR APPROVAL FORM

Please fill out the form on the following pages. This is important for establishing consistency in the Experiential Integration component of the student's program. In some cases, it is appropriate to share the field supervision responsibilities. Examples might include: the necessity of a team approach when a man is mentoring a woman student; where there is no one in the ministry context with a graduate ministry degree. In these cases, it is possible to have a primary and secondary Field Supervisor. It is the student's responsibility to discuss this with the Briercrest Seminary Program Coordinator, but both primary and secondary Field Supervisors must fill out the Request for Field Supervisor Approval form below. Please indicate whether this is for primary or secondary field supervision in the space provided. Need for a secondary Field Supervisor will be assessed in consultation with the student. Please complete all the information on this form.

THE EXPERIENTIAL INTEGRATION JOURNAL

Students are expected to document the Experiential Integration experience. One important way of documenting is to keep a journal throughout the ministry time. This journal is to be written weekly and then submitted monthly to the Program Coordinator. This journal serves a number of purposes:

1. Theological Reflection

Out of the various experiences in a given week, choose one in particular and analyze it according to the following four steps:

a. The Experience (What happened?)

To the best of your recollection, describe the direct experience — what was said, done and felt? Include background information, the setting, and other information important for understanding the experience. Relate what happened without including interpretation or conclusions, and describe your own feelings and, to whatever extent possible, those of others involved.

b. Analysis (What was going on? How did it go?)

It is in this section that your interpretation and assessment of the experience belongs. What are your perceptions about the experience, your reflection on it? From the raw data presented in the previous section lift out the main elements, the themes. Highlight the factors that gave the experience the flavour and shape it had for you.

c. Theological Meaning (What religious significance did it have?)

Questions to be asked of the experience include:

- What theological issues are raised by this incident?
- What scriptural passages speak to this incident?
- How does the experience tell us something about how God relates to us?
- What has this incident taught me about myself?
- How has God revealed Himself in this experience?
- How does this experience relate to the gospel?
- How did this situation touch my spiritual development?

d. Follow-up (What do you do next? How will you minister in the future?)

- Discuss the implications of your analysis and synthesis for pastoral concern and responsible action.

- What does this experience contribute to your understanding of yourself as a spiritual leader?
 - How might you minister more effectively in the future?
 - What resources would you utilize in the future?
2. Self-evaluation
 3. Recording of hours spent in EI
