Learning Portfolios: Guidelines for BA Students

(rev. October 2018)

In order to help us assess learning at Briercrest College, we require our BA graduates to assemble a learning portfolio. You can think of your portfolio as a reply to two questions: “What have I learned at Briercrest?” and “Can I prove it?”

Your electronic portfolio is structured in three parts. The first part will be your portfolio essay, a ten-page document that makes the strongest possible case for your learning at Briercrest. While the essay is broken down into categories according to our college learning outcomes they are not meant to be restrictive. This essay should reflect your own growth and maturing as a learner that expresses your unique story, gifts, capacities, and calling. The second section should include appendices (e.g., letters of reference, selected and marked academic papers, and other evidence of your learning). The essay and the artifacts are to be integrated. You should be referring to your learning in relationship to your appendixes throughout your essay. The same should be true of your doctrinal statement and your essay—what are the theological dimensions of your learning experience? You should have supporting evidence for all of the sections below. You can be adding these materials to your electronic portfolio throughout the course of your program. The third part of the portfolio is forward looking and helps prepare you to find employment.

Our college learning objectives communicate what our institution strives to produce in our students¹. In your essay, you must reflect upon and describe your own growth for each one of these outcomes; you may want to use headings in your essay to keep it well organized. Be prepared to discuss each of these specific areas with your faculty interviewers when the time comes.

BA graduates should be able to:

1. Carefully interpret Christian Scripture for the formation of faith and practice

In your essay you should broadly reflect upon your scriptural learning and how this learning has affected your faith and efforts in discipleship. As artifacts here, you should include:

¹ Please note that after you graduate we will retain time-stamped copies of our students’ Portfolios in order to assess whether our academic programs are achieving the learning outcomes we desire for our graduating students. However, we will not disburse student Portfolios for any other purpose without your express permission.

(1) the results of your Bible Knowledge Survey, AND

(2) a paper from a senior class (300-400 level) in Bible or Theology that displays exegetical and interpretive skills, or a paper from a senior class (300-400 level) in which the student displays their ability to interpret Scripture in relation to a theological, personal, ministry or social issue.

2. Articulate their theological and historical place in the global Christian community

This is where you discuss your spiritual journey that may include denominational and theological issues, your future direction, ministry and calling.

As evidence for this outcome, please provide an appendix which discusses the major doctrines of the Christian faith along with thoughtful scriptural support. Elaborate on each major doctrine in a separate paragraph (usually between 7 to 12 topics). You may consult a historic creed of the church, or the doctrinal statement of the college (<http://briercrest.ca/about/what-we-believe/statement-of-faith/>), the Evangelical Fellowship of Canada, or your own church or denomination for reference. This exercise is meant to help you assemble your own beliefs at this stage in your journey and you may borrow from other doctrinal statements (footnoting sources). Please include a footnote that explains how you formed this doctrinal statement and any other explanatory comments. In your interview, be prepared to support and discuss your doctrinal statement from scripture and your understanding of theology (you are allowed to have your doctrinal statement and Bible with you during the interview).

3. Critically analyze a variety of texts and weigh different interpretations of those texts

Broadly describe the growth in your reading and thinking ability in conjunction with engaging the works of others. As evidence you should include:

(1) A paper or selection of papers from 300-400 level classes that display evidence of the student's ability to analyze a variety of texts and their interpretation, OR

(2) A commonplace book that reveals the breadth and diversity of your reflective reading (refer to Appendix C).

4. Formulate and persuasively communicate sound arguments both orally and in writing

In your essay, address your progress as a communicator particularly as it relates to rhetoric, reasoning and the logical ordering of ideas. For this outcome you may include:

- (1) A recording or manuscript of a sermon or speech delivered in class, chapel or in a service setting. Please include the instructor's comments, if possible. OR
- (2) A detailed outline for a presentation in a senior class. Please include the instructor's comments, if possible. OR
- (3) A reference letter by a supervisor who can speak to your ability to communicate in a classroom, service or ministry context. AND
- (4) A well-reasoned and logically developed research paper.

5. Work fruitfully with a diversity of people toward the betterment of the church and the student's broader communities

Here you can describe the kinds of growth you have experienced relationally using your gifts and passions, in and outside the church. As evidence you should include:

- (1) Letter(s) of reference from one of your supervisors in Service Learning, AND
- (2) Any other suitable artifacts.

6. Demonstrate disciplinary expertise commensurate with baccalaureate standards

In your essay describe your progress and interests within your major describing how you deepened your appreciation for the discipline. Read the stated outcomes for your program from the left column in Appendix A as you consider your progress. You must include:

- (1) Unofficial transcripts from any post-secondary institutions you have transferred credits from (alternatively, you can write and submit a summary of previous learning that describes your education at these previous post-secondary institutions), AND
- (2) See Appendix A for the specific artifacts required for your program. If you do not have the required artifact, please see your program coordinator for instructions. In your essay elaborate on the ways you have grown in your discipline and refer specifically to the outcomes proposed of your major. Note that if you will be graduating with a double major, your essay and artifacts must address the requirements for both majors.

7. Other Learning Experiences

In addition to these crucial learning areas, we invite you to discuss other types of learning that may have occurred during your time at Briercrest. The following table includes examples of some of these other learning areas.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: How do I access my Portfolio?

A: In order to get to the Online Portfolio, log in to your Briercrest Live account and you will find the link to the College Graduation Portfolio under “Academics.” Please refer to Appendix E for more information on assembling your Portfolio.

Q: What if I am a transfer student and not all my time was spent at Briercrest?

A: You should certainly identify and describe your experience at your previous school (including uploading important documents or evidence as appendices). However, focus your commentary on your Briercrest educational experience.

Q: If I am enrolled in a Briercrest/Minot State partnership degree, when should I do my portfolio and interview?

A: We recommend assembling your portfolio and scheduling your interview during the fall semester of your final year at MSU. Your experience at both institutions will be important for your portfolio. We can also schedule interviews during the winter semester of your final year at MSU on a case-by-case basis.

Q: What if I will not have completed the paper or assignment that is needed for my portfolio before the due date?

A: Speak to your Program Coordinator about either making a schedule adjustment or a suitable replacement for your requirement.

Q: If one of my papers demonstrates more than one outcome, do I have to provide another artifact?

A: No. One artifact may serve as evidence for multiple outcomes.

Q: How do I submit my Bible Knowledge Survey with my grad portfolio?

A: To submit your results, you will need to take a screenshot of your results page from the ABHE Exam website. For help with this, see the Bible Knowledge Survey Instructions document on the Graduation webpage. You can then paste the results page screenshot into a Word document, save it as a PDF, and upload the PDF as an appendix in your portfolio.

Q: How do I add audio or video files to my portfolio?

A: Audio files that have a file size smaller than 20mb can be uploaded directly to your portfolio using the steps in Appendix E. Video files, as well as audio files larger than 20mb, can be uploaded to an online storage space like OneDrive for Business (login with your MyBriercrest email address), Google Drive, or DropBox. Then, you can copy the link for the audio or video file into a Word document, save it as a PDF, and upload the PDF as an appendix in your portfolio.

Q: If my instructor gave assignment feedback on Canvas, how do I download these comments?

A: The following instructions should help you download instructor feedback from Canvas. If these instructions are not working for you, feel welcome to contact the Administrative Assistant to the Dean of the College (jwestnedge@briercrest.ca) for further assistance.

Go into your Canvas course, choose "Assignments," then select the assignment you want to download. Now select "Submission Details," then "View Feedback." Canvas will now display your assignment, including any comments your instructor added to the document you submitted.

Click on the  button, which is near the top of assignment Preview window. Choose "Download annotated PDF." You can now save a PDF version of your assignment, with instructor comments included.
